China Communists Claim Yanks Helping Chiang

By GEORGE WANG

CHUNGKING, Nov. 5.—(UPI)—Communist sources charged today that American forces were fighting in China's undeclared civil war on the side of the central government, but a government spokesman said the accusation was groundless.

The Communist newspaper New China Daily, which joined Radio Moscow, making the charge, said that American troops helped the Central Government's armies capture two Communist-held villages in northeast China near the Manchurian border.

Information Minister K. C. Wu of the Chungking government said: "Announcement of the election."

Charges Duplessis

Seeks Dictatorship

ST. GEORGES, Que., Nov. 5.—(CP)—Adelard Godbout, leader of the Liberal official opposition in the Quebec legislature, said yesterday that Premier Duplessis is trying to impose a dictatorship upon the Province of Quebec.

"We in Quebec fought for five years for the safeguard of democracy, but never before in our whole political history has the province been so seriously threatened by losing its democratic characteristics," he said. "The democratic methods of our own fight against Europe have been used in the province during the last two years."

Mr. Godbout was speaking at a rally in favor of Henri Bessault, former minister of justice and commerce and Liberal candidate in the Quebec by-election of Nov. 21. The first provincial by-election since the election to power of the Union Nationale government of Premier Duplessis Aug. 8, 1944.

Report U. S. and Britain Agree on Sweeping

Program for Removal of Trade Restraints

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—(AP)—The United States and Great Britain were reported today to have agreed on a sweeping program for removing restraints on world trade.

This is the immediate forerunner, officials predict, of another agreement on United States financial assistance to Britain.

A review of the financial negotiations showed today that the United States probably will be lending $350,000,000 and $500,000,000.

The terms are understood to include:

1. A two per cent interest rate.

2. Repayment in fifty years, beginning five years after the actual making of the loan. This five year span is to allow the British people to get back on their feet financially.

3. A provision that any time the British empire fails to take in sufficient funds its payment for the year may be delayed.

The British negotiators, Lord Keynes and Lord Halifax, transmitted these terms to London about Friday.

Col. Thomas J. Weed, United States commandant, issued the order. The Stars and Stripes said it banned soldiers in nearby centers from entering the city unless in groups supervised by a police officer.

The paper reported all cafes, restaurants, liquor stores, hotels and private homes were forbidden ground.

generally denied the charges and said the Communists had made them only in an effort to elevate the American people and lead them to ask for the withdrawal of United States forces from China.

GUARDING TRAINS

Communications Minister Yu Pei-Peng, however, revealed that 30 Marines were accompanying each coal train traveling from North China's largest coal mine at Kailan southeast to Tientsin. Marines also guarded the mine, he said.

North China's second largest mine, at Taoshan in southern Shantung, has been surrounded for 85 days by Communists, he said.

Yu charged that Communists have destroyed 84 miles of railways in North China, paralyzing all lines. The government has paid 20,000 Japanese railway equipment to work on repairing the line.

MACHINE GUN FIRE

In charging American intervention in North China, the New China Daily said that American forces and Chinese Nationalist troops expelled Peishan, 20 miles southeast of the Manchurian border fortress of Shanhaiwan, with heavy machine-gun fire last Wednesday.

The Americans are using American troops to move central government forces forward for the offensive against Shanhaiwan, their own view of the principal cause of the Communist aggression in Yunnan, echoed the charge that American forces had fired on Communist 8th Route Army guerrillas last Wednesday in the Shanhaiwan area.

Windsor Strike

They were sent here when Police Chief Claude Renaud asked for outside police help after an unprovoked attack on a police car Friday to force an entry for a strike.

The attempt by city police was made on instructions of the Windsor Police Board.

Early today the outside police were sent along to and from their trucks in a 40-mile run.

Building about two miles from the city center, the strike was held by three to six but there appeared to be no serious movement.

By early afternoon the vehicle barricade extended for nearly half a mile along Sandown street in front of the main plant and company offices and had apparently reached its peak.

It was made up of cars of union members and private cars, trucks and buses.

Added during the morning as pickets on nearby streets directed traffic into the heart of the strike.

The possibility was seen that the barricade would remain for some time.

LEISTON, Sask., Nov. 5.—(CP)—Here is a rambling old house is a school where pupils go to classes only if they want to smoke, go to bed when they like, make all their own rules, call teachers by their first names and sack them by vote if they prove "too tall."

Head of the school is Alexander Sutherland Nield, 32, who has conducted an educational experiment in a free will for 24 years.

The pupils hold weekly parliaments at which they judge those who have broken any of the rules that they themselves have made—such things as swearing, bullying in the village or breaking windows.

"They can swear as much as they like," Mr. Nield said, "but not in the village. You are the villagers' entire education up to our standards."

British Patrols, Java Nationals In Sharp Fights

BATAVIA, Nov. 5.—(UPI)—Street fighting between British patrols and Indonesian nationalists flared again in Batavia tonight and native spokesmen charged that Dutch troops had opened a drive southwest of the capital.

British Indian troops patrolling the native quarters around the center of the walled city were greeted by sporadic rifle fire from all sides, but there was no immediate word of the number of casualties.

Simultaneously, the nationalist newspaper Merdeka reported street fighting between Dutch and Indonesian forces in the northern district southwest of Batavia. The article said that Dutch troops of burning 150 natives housed in the district and said 20 Nationalists had been killed.

City Artists Give Recital At Music Club

Two of the city's most accomplished performers, Bessie Campbell Brown, pianist, and Bernice McBeth, soprano, combined to give a recital at the regular meeting of the Women's Musical club held Saturday afternoon at the Masonic Temple.

Both Mrs. Brown and Miss McBeth have been prominent as soloists for several years, and in music festivals both have won open competitions.

Thus, with an enviable list of achievements in the background, there was reason to expect standards of performances above the average. There was no disappointment in this respect, as both gave polished and at times artistic performances.

Mrs. Brown, while falling victim to a few slips of memory and fingers, gave a performance in which no technical obstacles existed.

With these considerations removed, she was able to devote herself exclusively to creative pianistic utterance, which she did to the evident satisfaction of all. Long recognized as an accomplished Bach interpreter she was heard to good advantage in Jesus Christ the Son of God and Sheep May Safely Graze, while her interpretation of Beethoven's Appassionata Sonata revealed interpretation which went to the very depth of the music.

Other contributions were Godovsky's Waltzes and Passages and Paradoxical Moods; Paganini's Nocturne; Weber's Basso and Chopin's Etude opus 25 No. 5 and Adante Spianato and Grand Polonaise opus 25.

Miss McBeth imbued her various songs with both feeling and style, she brought variety and grace of outline to her interpretation and her musicianship never was more apparent. While a greater volume and dramatic intensity would have improved even further her singing of He is God, He is Kind from "Hallelujah" and Ah, My Son from "The Prophet" she nevertheless brought to them a sincerity and understanding that was impressive. She has never done better than her singing of Silent Noon, Williams. A Walk by the River at night, Gosselin; Come Now Turn Now from "Tessie"; Handel and a Pastoral from Veracini's "Rosolinda."

Won't Order Police Stay Out Of Strike

TORONTO, Nov. 5.—(CP)—At-Toronto-General Leslie Blackwell of Ontario last night made public a telegram to Mayor Arthur Beames of Windsor saying he can not instruct provincial or other police at Windsor to refrain from taking "proper police action" to maintain law and order.

"Police action if taken will not be taken in relation to the issue between employer and employee in the strike at the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Ltd." nor will action be taken to prevent lawful and peaceful picketing, said the telegram. "Police action is concerned with the fact that the police committee of local 306 of the United Automobile Workers (CIO) by their decree have set aside the laws of Canada . . . and have substituted therefor a decree that by forcible, illegal picketing the fire protection and maintenance personnel may not enter and leave at will the premises of the Ford Motor Company."

Mr. Blackwell said the telegram was sent in reply to one from Mayor Beames received Saturday in which the mayor said he was directed by an informal meeting of Windsor city council to ask that provincial police in Windsor "refrain from appearing in or making any show of force or taking direct action" in connection with the strike, which started Sept. 12.

Charge Officers Abused Own Men

SYDNEY, Aus., Nov. 5.—(CP)—The armed services representatives on the New South Wales and Queensland Trades and Labor Councils were on record today with charges of ill-treatment of Australian prisoners of war in Malaya by their own officers.

The charges, published Friday, contained these allegations:

1. That an Australian colonel ordered heavy pack drill for minor offences against the Japanese.
2. That men acquitted of offences by the Japanese were punished by their own officers.
3. That fines and sentences imposed on the Australians by their own officers were not entered in their pay books, so that no check could be made later.
4. That officers were able to board food while other ranks had to "scrounge" to keep alive.
5. That some officers hoarded medical supplies, the lack of which led to the deaths of some men.
6. That Australian officers co-operated with the Japanese to

New Chevrolet Offers Several Fine Features

Details of the new 1946 Chevrolet released today by General Motors of Canada, Ltd., list new styling features and mechanical improvements that make the car stand out as a completely new vehicle when compared to pre-war models.

New and more graceful lines have been achieved by a massive treatment of the front-end assembly. The grille, which has been modelled on classic lines, emphasizes the width of the car and at the same time maintains the low appearance.

EXCELLENT HEADLIGHTS

Headlights, spaced widely apart for effective illumination, are framed in each front fender. Parking lights are incorporated in the grille assembly in a rectangular shape. Front bumpers of greater depth add to the sturdy appearance and provide maximum all around protection for the new door action fenders. The fenders flow smoothly back halfway into the front door, holding a graceful sweep and preserving the airflow contours.

Three series will be offered in the 1946 model: the Stylemaster, in the economy class; the Fleetmaster, with added refinements; and the Fleetline, a luxury model. They will be available in a variety of colors with upholstery and inside trim designed to harmonize with the body shades.

All-steel bodies by Fisher, exclusive with Chevrolet in the low-price field, continue to offer the maximum in safety. No-draft ventilation is provided.

IMPROVED GEAR SHIFT

An improved vacuum-power gear shift with finger tip control is standard equipment on all the new models. The tested Chevrolet unitized knee action is included and provides the smoothest rising quality along with anti-shock steering.

New Hun Resistance Movement Formed

BIELEFELD, Germany, Nov. 5.—(Reuters)—German police have been specially trained to assist British military police and public safety officials in stamping out a new German underground organization called "D Fuer D" which has replaced the Weierwolf movement, destroyed by the Allies last summer.

D Fuer D—Deutschland Fuer Deutsche (Germany for the Germans) has set itself the task of making the life of occupation troops as uncomfortable as possible, in the hope that they will mutiny or agitate to be sent home.

It is improbable that members of the organization will be able to use firearms on a large scale, as collection of small arms from the Germans in the British zone has been thorough.

So-Ed Classes Begin Meetings For This Term

One hundred and twelve persons turned out for the opening of the YMCA So-Ed classes held at the "Y" Friday night.

Under the course of "Something to Think About" the Very Rev. Dean A. M. Tresselt of All Saints church, spoke on "The Adequate Philosophy of Life". The Dean, after telling of various confusions in the "upside-down" world of today, said "we need to get back to the right belief in God and the Christian gospel."

He stated that people of today, in their philosophy, deal with themselves first, neighbors next, and with God last, and suggested that if we reverse this procedure and put God first and self last, then we would begin to live in a much different and better world.

PHOTO COURSE

C. N. Godwin, Kexy technician, outlined the first steps in developing and printing in the course of "Through the Lens". Eleven photography enthusiasts attended this lecture and gleaned much knowledge from Mr. Godwin's instruction.

Those interested in radio attended the "Story of Radio" class, when R. L. Barnes, assistant manager of C.J.C.A., spoke on "Radio—An Institution", and told of how radio had grown from the days of the crystal set to the present day development. He also explained how each department of a radio station worked and how they co-ordinated.

Instructions in line-cutting were given to those interested in learning crafts. Miss M. Shabrook was the instructor of 25 members who attended. This class on crafts was sponsored by Miss E. Field.

Not Same Man Says Edmonton Officer

Maj. Bruce Macdonald, DSO, who gained fame and the Distinguished Service Order in a skirmish with the Germans last spring on Saturday said that "only association I have with the prosecution of Nazi war criminals is purely coincidental."

He pointed out that some references to Lt.-Col. Bruce Macdonald of the Essex Scottish Regiment, Windsor, Ont., who is chief prosecutor of the German general who commanded the division which shot Canadian war prisoners, had indicated that Lt.-Col. Macdonald and he were one and the same.

"I am not a barrister," said Major Macdonald. He was graduated in commerce from the University of Alberta in 1940 and is aiming to complete his course as a chartered accountant.

School at Vermilion Again Functioning

After being closed for four years for two of which it was a Canadian Women's Army Corps training centre, the Vermilion School of Agriculture and Home Economics is functioning again with N. N. Beasley as principal. Mr. Beasley was an instructor at the school in pre-war days and has been with the department of agriculture since the closing.

Opening on Tuesday was attended by S. H. Gaudier, superintendent of schools of agriculture. There have been about 130 registrations for the present term, of whom 120 were present on Tuesday; although classes did not meet until Wednesday afternoon.

Only first year work will be taken up this term, Mr. Gaudier told The Bulletin Saturday.

School Trustee States Position

"No reflection on the loyalty of the present staff was intended," F. J. Newson, citizens' Committee candidate for the school board said in connection with his speech in the Garrison school meeting last Monday night, which might have been construed as "a reflection on the loyalty of the staff," etc.

What was intended Mr. Newson pointed out was "without making any reflection on the loyalty of the staff I am inclined to favor the suggestion."

This statement was made in answer to a questionnaire submitted to all candidates as to their reaction to the employment of outside competent authority to survey Edmonton's educational needs.

WHAT KIND OF A MAN DOES EDMONTON NEED FOR MAYOR?

He must be a good Manager.

He must be a good Public Relations man.

He must understand civic finance and operating problems.

He must have the human attitude toward people.

He must be vigorous and progressive.

He must believe in Edmonton.

How Does HAMILTON Measure Up?

HAMILTON proved his ability as an administrator while on City Council and during his term as Deputy Mayor.

HAMILTON has never engaged in bitter political controversy; the Mayor of Edmonton must be able to negotiate freely with the senior governments on reconstruction, rehabilitation, housing, and other matters.

HAMILTON's training fits him to grasp quickly and deal capably with problems of civic finance and operation. He likes people and people like him. He believes in collective bargaining. He has already shown that he wants to help the ex-service man in housing and rehabilitation. All citizens can expect courtesy and a square deal.

HAMILTON is a YOUNG man, fully aware of the problems of today. HAMILTON believes in the future of Edmonton. He intends to live and work in Edmonton for many years to come. He disagrees with the statement that "Edmonton is the dirtiest city on the North American continent", but he realizes that many improvements are long overdue and is determined to implement the plans already prepared for extensive improvements.

WHAT KIND OF CITY COUNCIL DO WE NEED?

The Council must be representative of all parts of the city and of all points of view.

The Council must combine experience with new ideas.

The Council must be able to consider every proposal on its merits.

How do Douglas, Gariepy, Gwynne, Munro and Wilson measure up?

Along with the five continuing members of Council, these men represent the various parts of the city and many different points of view. They include ex-servicemen, trade unionists, business and professional men, but are all citizens first.

The slate combines experience with new blood.

WHAT KIND OF SCHOOL BOARD DO WE NEED?

The Trustees must be as representative as the Alder men.

The Board must also combine experience with new ideas.

Every member must be interested in the needs of education.

How do Butterworth, Ford, Macdonald, Newson and Ottewill measure up?

These citizens are representative. Three have already gained experience on the School Board—two are new.

The School Board is just as important as the City Council. These people are primarily interested in school matters; they are not merely disappointed candidates for nomination to the City Council.

ALL THESE CANDIDATES HAVE PLANS FOR THE WELFARE OF ALL. THEY ARE NOT PLEDGED TO CARRY OUT THE WISHES OF ANY ONE GROUP.

Think it over, neighbor.

What you should know about FLUORESCENT LIGHTING

A new, more efficient kind of lighting is coming into widespread use—General Electric Fluorescent Lighting! Released from war duty, it is now available for your store, office or factory—and will shortly be available for your home. One of the greatest developments in the history of illumination, fluorescent lighting gives more and better light. Below are some of the things you will want to know about it.

GENERAL ELECTRIC FLUORESCENT LIGHTING

What is Fluorescent Lighting? It is lighting by a new principle in which fluorescent material, coated on the inside of a glass tube, is made to glow by ultra-violet action.

What Do Fluorescent Lamps Look Like? They are tubular lamps, made in various lengths and thicknesses—straight and circular—and in a range of soft colours.

How is Fluorescent Light Different? It is cool light, practically shadow-free and glare-free. It makes seeing easier, reduces eyestrain and nervous fatigue.

What Will It Cost? Fluorescent Lighting is economical.

While the initial cost is somewhat higher, it gives two or three times as much light, of better quality, for the same wattage as incandescent light.

Where Can It Be Used? Wherever electricity is installed. No special wiring is required. Fixtures for stores, factories and offices are available now. Be sure to select fixtures of the proper design and have them correctly installed.

Who Can Install It? Your nearby General Electric dealer or contractor will be able to supply and install all your fluorescent lighting needs. Check with them today for further information.

Surrender Delays Cause New Worries For Captive General

Wainwright Tells of Questioning by the Japanese and the Loss of a Good Friend, Major Bill Lawrence

In the 24th article of his dramatic story, told in detail for the first time, Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright relates the nerve-breaking delays in effecting the full surrender of his forces, and loses a good friend, Major Bill Lawrence—EDITOR.

BY GENERAL JONATHAN M. WAINWRIGHT
(Copyright 1945, King Features Syndicate, Inc. and The Edmonton Bulletin. Reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

We waited three miserable days in our rooms at Manila's University Club, while the stubborn came out on our chins and we were reduced to smoking cigarette butts down to the lip-burning state.

The days of my early captivity in May of 1942 were ones of considerable worry. We were told, in effect, that we were not prisoners of war; that we were hostages held to insure the success of the negotiations with forces in the south and in upper Luzon.

What I did not know at the time was that the Japs had informed our men on Corregidor—including officers who against all laws of warfare, were put to work cleaning up the Dock's debris—that if the troops in the south and in the north did not surrender I would be forced to witness the shooting of ten American officers every day those troops held out.

But even without this knowledge, or the foresight to know that there would be trouble in the south, those first three days

HOW TO COMBAT Rheumatic Pains
Rheumatic pains are often caused by uric acid in the blood. This blood impurity should be removed by the kidneys. If kidneys fail, uric acid remains, it irritates the muscles and joints causing excruciating pains. Treat rheumatic pains by having your kidneys in good condition. Take regularly Dodd's Kidney Pills—they build a stronger, more healthy kidney.

Manila at that time was almost completely overrun by Jap forces, and it was thus time to break up our forces into guerrilla bands, as MacArthur had envisioned.

But I did not think then, and do not think now, that the short action that such bands could have engaged in, and the small amount of good they could have accomplished, would have compensated in any way for what would have happened to the men and women of Corregidor. Certainly those guerrilla bands could not have lasted the two and a half years which passed before our troops got back to the Philippines.

On the same May 11, at night, we were joined at the University Club by Brig. Gen. Lewis Brerke, Major Bill Lawrence and Sgt. Hubert Carroll, who brought with them our clothes, toilet articles and other personal effects. It was a blessing to get something clean, and to have

ENDLESS SEARCH
But with the arrival of our baggage began a seemingly endless search at our ever-widening efforts. The bags were opened in our rooms that night and systematically searched by a unit of Jap officers.

Out of my bag they took by tactical map of North Luzon and Batan, my field glasses, compass and a pair of wire cutters.

On the morning of May 12 the questioning began, questioning which was to continue almost without abatement until the day of my liberation.

At the very start of the questioning they wanted to know why nothing had been heard from Col. J. P. Moran and Guillermo Narak. They were even more severe about the fact that some small detachments of Philippine Army troops and some of the Constabulary were making a last ditch stand on the island of Palawan and in the Bicol Peninsula.

They reminded me again that I would not be recognized as a prisoner of war until all opposition had ceased.

I told them I would do what I could, and asked them to send to my quarters in the University Club, Francisco and Lieut. Silbany, a Philippine Army officer who had served in the Bicol Peninsula. I told the Japs that I would give instructions to those two Philippine officers and send them to Legaspi

YAMASHITA FACES ACCUSERS—Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita, former Japanese commander in the Philippines, is seen here with his captors. He is being held in a cell in Manila.

Lt. Gen. J. M. Wainwright, U.S.A., senior American officer in the Philippines, is now in Legaspi to transmit to you an order of surrender to take effect immediately. You are hereby ordered by me that upon receipt of this message to send a representative to Legaspi, Nark, Labor or Sorogon, whichever is nearest to you, where I shall proceed to meet you.

TOLD OF DEATH MARCH
Francisco and Silbany, much the worse for wear, were brought to my quarters in the University Club and in whispers told me what they knew of the Bataan Death March, a story which made me sick to hear.

Yet I knew that the Japs were capable of staging other death marches, and would do so unless all organized resistance ceased.

I quickly sent Francisco, Silbany and Pugh to Legaspi, with instructions similar to the ones I sent to Sharp, Nark and Horan.

SITUATION CLEARED
The constables on Palawan surrendered without trouble, and the situation around Legaspi soon cleared. But Sharp's orders of May 10 to five Filipino senior commanders on Negros were rejected.

"The undersigned chief of our military unit upon instructions from civil authorities and of many civilians, and announced that they did not intend to surrender.

The Japs force was perhaps the least trained of all those under my command, and so badly equipped that the men had only enough ammunition for 20 minutes of sustained firing. Col. Roger Hillman, commanding officer of the Negros section, was hooded and threatened when he presented Gen. Sharp's order to cease firing.

At the risk of his life he went into the mountains in search of the triumphant Japanese, and had intended to kill any American attempting to communicate with them.

These wholesale specifications were twice talked the ranking Japanese officer on the island into surrendering the time by which the extension must be effected.

ENVOYS MUZZERED
These extensions were all the more remarkable because three Filipino envoys—A Col. Valaranta and his two aides—were murdered by a demoralized Filipino soldier as they were passing a flag to the Japs.

The matrone also held 100 Jap internees and threatened constantly to put them all to death if we continued our efforts to persuade them to surrender. It was a fantastically ludicrous situation, with the lives of countless Americans and Filipinos hanging by the thread of the matrone's unpredictability. During that awful period of their holdout, I imagined that the Japs would be turned on the up-muzzled thousands on Corregidor.

In the meantime, Col. N. C. Galbraith, in fear of the Japs, walked for days through the jungles of Northern Luzon without stopping, in the midst of the American leader.

To strike new dismay upon us in those early days of our captivity, we lost the cheering comfort and plaudits example of Major Lawrence.

On May 13, two days after his arrest, Major Lawrence was taken to Corregidor with our effects. Lawrence was laid low with a high fever. He died each day of his arrival from The Rock, but we did not consider his condition dangerous until the following day.

FEVER INCREASES
On the morning of May 12, when Lawrence's fever rose, I sent word to the commander of the University Club that we were in immediate need of a doctor. But it was late that evening before a Jap Army doctor appeared in. He gave Lawrence a cursory inspection and left.

With Lawrence delirious, we tried all during the day of May 13 to get the doctor back again. But our increasingly desperate appeals were ignored until 7 p.m. when another doctor arrived. He made the briefest possible inspection of Lawrence, the muttered:

"Pneumonia. Both lungs." He shook his head.

I begged him to get Lawrence to a hospital, and after a period of maddening deliberation he consented. Lawrence was taken away about 8 o'clock, and I sent Sgt. Carroll along to look out for him.

Just at midnight, Carroll returned. His face told the story. "He died at 11 o'clock," he told us, while we shook with mingled rage and sorrow.

I got up early the next morning with a fear that the Japs might cremate the body, as is their custom. Lawrence was a Roman Catholic and traditionally opposed to cremation. I asked for an audience with the ranking Jap officer and pleaded with him to see to it that Lawrence's body was not cremated.

ARRANGE FOR BURIAL
But he laughed at me and told me it would be done despite my appeal. He added, however, that if I cared to bury Lawrence's remains in the military cemetery at Fort McKinley, my old post just outside Manila, it could be arranged.

So I got permission for Johnny Pugh to scout Manila for a Catholic priest and to explain to the priest the circumstances of the cremation.

Pugh returned with the priest late in the day and at about 6 o'clock our little group went to the hospital, under heavy guard, claimed poor Billy's remains and were driven to Fort McKinley.

McKinley looked bleak and barren. It hurt to see the Rising Sun fluttering from the same pole where I had staged so many ceremonies under our own flag. The place was jammed with Jap troops. The cemetery, once neat and well ordered, was formerly unkempt. The Japs had dug a great, long community grave, like a common pit, and had forced half of it with dead Americans and Filipinos—buried without identification.

We chose a spot for the urn that held our dear friend, Sgt. Carroll dug its little grave and fashioned a little white cross, while I made a sketch of its location for Billy's wife. The Catholic priest, who slugged softly and said that this was war, read the full burial service over the ashes and we said our own little prayers until we were prodded in the backs and told it was time for us to return to our quarters.

(Tomorrow: The Japs question Wainwright about the $150,000 he hid, and he sees a tragic parade beneath his windows.)

Find Executioner Of Oswiecim Camp
NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—(CP)—A Warsaw dispatch to the Polish Press Agency reported today that Otto Den, chief executioner at Oswiecim, where more than 1,000,000 prisoners were killed by the Nazis, has been caught by the Poles in Krasnik. He will be tried before a special court in Krasnik.

Rest Knocked Out

Three Jap Divisions Left for Home Defence

TOKYO, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Japan's proudest army divisions were wiped out on the edges of the Empire and only three first-class ones were available in the late hours of the war to defend the homeland from invasion, United States army records showed today.

The arrogant divisions that led the triumphant Japanese march throughout Asia were crushed or bypassed and at the end even the great Kwangtung army of Manchuria was stripped for Japan's own defence against invasion.

The decline and fall of the army that once was the terror of all the world was marked by a card catalogue kept by Lt. Col. George Magruder while the war was on and confirmed by investigations after occupation.

"In Manchuria when the Russians hit," said the colonel, who is one of Gen. MacArthur's intelligence officers, "the last of the Kwangtung army's best outfit—the 25th and 1st Armored Divisions—had been sent to the homeland against the expected assault."

"THROWN TOGETHER"
The home army of 250,000 men had the veteran 15th division but the remainder of the home divisions were just thrown together," Col. Magruder said.

The notorious 14th Division of Bataan death-march infamy was smashed on Leyte in the American comeback offensive in the Philippines.

The tide of war swept past three other divisions that were in on the final assault of Bataan and Corregidor and they were routed after the surrender—the 4th in Thailand, the 2nd in Indo-China and the 8th on Formosa.

Rebuild Church
LONDON, Nov. 5.—(CP)—London's famous Bow church at Chandon, virtually destroyed by bombs during the war, will be rebuilt, church officials announced Saturday.

One of the worst rain and wind storms in several years has isolated this northern British Columbia coast port and left a series of slides over railway tracks and hundreds of downed telephone and telegraph poles. There have been no reports of death or injury.

Blowing up Friday night, the wind is reported to have reached a velocity of between 50 and 60 miles an hour around midnight, Saturday, easing to 25 miles shortly before daylight.

(At Vancouver, telegraph company officials said there was little prospect of making contact with the Prince Rupert office at least before morning. Only brief word on the storm, was sent out Saturday. Linemen were hampered in their efforts to restore lines by the slides.)

Official schedules have all been disrupted and it is doubtful if trains will reach here for at least two days. Sixteen miles east of the city a 200-foot slide of trees, rocks and other material has blocked the Canadian National Railway tracks. Washouts are general for a distance of more than 80 miles. All telephone lines are out of order, with lines down both in the city and several miles beyond.

Men who think of tomorrow

GUARD AGAINST INFLATION Today!

Old Man Inflation stands just around the corner ready to snatch at your pay envelope and short-change you in return. It happened after 1918, and it can happen again.

It's strange but true that the only ones who can save us from inflation—excessively high prices—are ourselves. It's spending those extra dollars that bids up prices on everything that's still scarce. And once started, inflation spreads like a forest fire to everything we use or consume.

So let's fight the temptation to spend unnecessarily. Let's put every extra dollar into Victory Bonds and hold onto the Bonds we already have.

Think of tomorrow... and you'll agree the thing to do is not to cash Victory Bonds but to go and buy more!

EVERY Canadian knows about ostriches. Every Canadian knows that when an ostrich is frightened or surprised or sees something unpleasant it hides its head in the sand so that it cannot see the displeasing or disturbing object, whatever it may be. When the ostrich has its head completely buried and can no longer see the object, then the ostrich in its innocence believes that it is hidden from the disturbing object so that in so far as the ostrich is concerned the object no longer exists. Every Canadian knows this is very stupid of the ostrich.

For ten years civic administrations in Edmonton have been content to coast along without making any effort to make this city equal in its civic equipment to its strategically important position in Western Canada. With the finest site of any inland city in Canada, little or nothing has been done to make Edmonton beautiful. Our streets are in a disgraceful condition. Inadequate garbage collection and lack of other needed services contribute to a generally untidy condition of which most Edmontonians are ashamed. It is time for a change.

As a member of the City Council for eight years Alderman Harry Ainalay has been almost alone in advocating the changes which are needed at the Civic Block to have Edmonton keep up with its growth in population and importance. His has been the only voice raised in the City Council for a progressive street policy, for better transportation for outlying areas, for city beautification and the development of recreational facilities. Edmonton needs a vigorous, energetic, progressive Mayor next year. Harry D. Ainalay has all these qualifications.

Struck by Bottle, Man Suffers Cut and Injured Teeth

Max Dinkak of 10709 97 street was treated at the Royal Alexandra hospital early Sunday for a deep laceration on his upper lip and a number of loosened teeth, the result of being struck by a flying beer bottle, according to city police.

Dinkak allegedly told police he was taking a drink near downtown hotel when a man in an upstairs room of that establishment opened a window and ordered him to "move on." He followed this order up with a hurled beer bottle, Dinkak said.

26 Are Jailed As Police Busy Over Week-End

A total of 26 persons were arrested by city police during the week-end at a "long series" of minor offences kept the department active, according to their reports Monday. Police responded to more than 50 calls, ranging from insecure office doors, missing persons, trouble in cafes and lower halls, powders and fires, to traffic offences over and above accident reports.

There were 18 calls for the patrol wagon during the week-end. Of 26 arrested, 15 were charged with intoxication. Other charges included illegal possession of drugs, assault, theft, keeping a gaming house and being unlawfully "found in" a gaming house.

REPORTS ATTACK

In addition, a young woman reported that she had been attacked near the public library. She stated the assailant was "frustrated" and "angry."

A morality squad raid Saturday night on premises at 1290 66 street resulted in Dymtro H. H. being arrested as the owner of a gaming house, and seven others being charged with being found in.

They are Sterling Chappell, Louis Riman, Mike Lukinuk, John Haykewich, Yen Chin, James Hixon and Alex Isenka. Property seized by police included 13 chairs and a covered table, and $1845 in cash found on the table. Parties were found there four detectives operating under direction of Det. William Smith.

A total of 12 traffic accidents, resulting in serious injury to three persons and lesser injury to two others were reported in the traffic office.

The Inquiring Reporter

What do you think of the RCMP request for planes to be used as aerial Black Mails?

JACK MILLIGAN, discharged RCMP pilot, thinks it is a very good idea. With all the surplus planes in Canada the RCMP might as well have a few to use in their work.

MRS. HELEN WHITE, housewife, I think it's very far sighted on the part of the RCMP. It would enable them to run men right to the spot where they were needed with a minimum loss of time.

JOHN PEASE, salesman, The police graduated from horses to cars as the changing world required. I don't see any reason why they shouldn't operate from planes in this age. I definitely think they should have planes at their disposal for use in emergency.

Editor Escapes With Daughter As Home Burns

Fire, believed caused by faulty electrical wiring shortly before 7 a.m. Sunday, damaged a house at 10511 129 street, owned by H. MacKinnon and occupied by George Mackintosh, Edmonton journal's sports editor, and his family.

The living room of the house was seriously damaged and all its contents destroyed, police said, while a front stairway in the building was also damaged.

The fire apparently started in the living room and Mr. Mackintosh escaped over a front balcony. His daughter, a child, who sounded the alarm after discovering the fire, escaped through the rear of the house.

Equipment from No. 2 and No. 8 fire halls, used under direction of District Chief Ferguson, brought the conflagration under control. These lines of hose and the hoses were used.

Mr. Mackintosh said Monday the house is covered by insurance. Although the furniture and personal effects were carried out, the house was left in a state of ruin.

He suffered slight abrasions in one hand in climbing from the house after his daughter's escape. He was taken to the St. Anthony's Pro-Cathedral on discovering the fire.

Are You Aware of the Advantages of the Deferred Payment Letter
... The Farmers' Saving Plan?

The Deferred Payment Letter is the expression of a sincere intention to purchase Victory Bonds. It is NOT a promissory note or binding legal document. It permits an individual to obtain a new 3% bond at 100, which can be paid for at any time within 12 months. It requires a deposit of only 5% of the amount of bonds required. There is, however, this assurance, that should the signer of the letter find it impossible to complete the purchase, the bond earmarked for him will be sold on the market. The deposit with adjustments will be returned to the signer of the letter.

Beekkeepers, Honey Producers Hold Week End Meetings Here

A sharp increase in the production of Alberta honey due in part to new apiarists entering the field and to increased marketing facilities was reflected in the reports of officials to a joint annual meeting of the Alberta Beekeepers' Association and the Alberta Honey Producers' Cooperative Ltd., held in the Macdonald hotel on Saturday afternoon and evening.

The meeting dealt first with the reports from the president of the Alberta Beekeepers' Association, W. Kowalski, Ben Accord who told of the results of a year of progress which included 40 meetings of beekeepers held in various parts of the province.

Representations to the provincial and to the Dominion government had been made with a view to the easing of sugar restrictions and the increase in the amount of supervision over beekeepers, Mr. Kowalski said.

Officers of the Alberta Beekeepers' Association were elected with E. G. Goodall of Calgary as president, R. E. English, Edmonton, as vice-president, and W. G. Le Maistre, Edmonton, as secretary.

Membership in the Alberta Honey Producers had more than quadrupled in the past year, according to P. Kolowich, president, when he reported that part of the Saturday afternoon session was to deal with the business relative to this comparatively new organization among Alberta beekeepers.

The continued operation of the cooperative was assured Mr. Kowalski said and the success so far achieved was reflected in the number of orders received already for next year's operations.

Operation of the co-operative from a financial point of view had been difficult according to W. G. Le Maistre, managing director, who pointed out that there was less than $60 in the treasury, but the services the co-operative had been able to extend to members more than overbalanced that difficulty.

Canadian Rehabilitation Program Is Explained to Catholic Forum

Canada's rehabilitation program for ex-service personnel provides complete coverage against sickness, accidents, unemployment and the freedom from fear and want expressed by the Atlantic Charter. Walter R. McLaren, assistant superintendent of veterans' rehabilitation in this city, told an audience of 200 persons Sunday. He was addressing the opening session of a series of public forums at the Empress theatre, planned to fully discuss the problems of war veterans' rehabilitation.

Similar forums, on associated subjects, will be held on succeeding Sunday afternoons for the rest of this month. The sessions are sponsored by the Catholic Laymen's Association in collaboration with the Canadian Legion.

Chairman of Sunday's meeting was Neil Primrose, while Mr. McLaren was joined on the speaker's rostrum by Lt. Marcel Lambert, veteran of the Dwyer raid and prisoner of war in southern Germany until released after V-E Day by advancing American forces.

UNDERSTANDING SOUGHT
Lt. Lambert, discussing the Canadian rehabilitation program from the viewpoint of a serviceman, asked for mutual understanding between servicemen and civilians. He told both groups to expect changes, and asked servicemen, when considering the civilian, "let each man judge his own motive for assisting."

The Road Ahead

There are, for example, a lot of ex-servicemen employed by the department of labor. They are the people who insist on sending in rosy and optimistic reports to headquarters at Ottawa and preparing these reports for the consumption of the minister, the cabinet and the cabinet. There were a lot of these ex-servicemen in the army—they are the men who kept on kidding the government about the reinforcement situation until it got into the horrible muddle which resulted in the resignation of Col. Ralston from the cabinet.

The worst ex-servicemen of all are those employed by the Emergency Shelter Administration, and those who refuse to acknowledge the fact that there is a really serious housing shortage existing now.

TRAVEL IN CIRCLES
Instead of accepting the challenges presented to them by the very obvious and unpleasant facts, these ex-servicemen avoid hours, days and weeks running around in circles.

P. KOWALSKI

One of the chief services rendered had been the purchase of package bees and well made standard equipment at individual prices.

Considerable saving had been made for members of the association. J. W. Blissett, assistant manager pointed out when he explained the financial report, as a result of the assistance given by the provincial department of agriculture.

Mr. Kowalski was re-elected as president of the co-operative. H. Smith, Bassano, vice-president, and W. G. Le Maistre, managing director, Secretary-treasurer and assistant manager for the ensuing year will be W. G. Blissett, Edmonton.

HOLD BANQUET
A banquet was held on Saturday evening attended by all the beekeepers. O. S. Longman, minister of agriculture, represented the provincial department when he congratulated the association on its past achievements and urged that it continue in its activities.

Remarkable insight into the habits of social insects was shown by an illustrated lecture by Prof. E. H. Strickland of the University of Alberta, in an illustrated lecture.

League Arranges Second Meeting To Name Officers

Due to the fact that only six persons along with the executive attended the annual meeting of the Highlands and District Community League, no officers could be elected for the new term, and no business discussion took place. Another meeting has been called for Friday, Nov. 9, at 8 p.m., in the school hall.

The executive is arranging for circulars to be sent to all residents in the district, informing them of the meeting and urging them to make a showing of support and community spirit by attending the meeting, and taking an interest in the affairs of the community.

Viscount Lascelles To Come to Canada As Aide to Athlete

LONDON, Nov. 5.—(CP)—Viscount Lascelles, 25-year-old son of the Earl of Harrowood and the Princess Royal, will accompany his grand-uncle, the Earl of Athlone, as aide-de-camp when the Earl returns to Canada to complete his term as governor-general.

The Earl of Athlone is expected back in Canada shortly. He will be succeeded as governor-general next year by Field Marshal Alexander, formerly Allied Supreme Commander in the Mediterranean.

Viscount Lascelles, a nephew of the King, was a prisoner of war for a year after he was captured while serving with the Grenadier Guards in Italy in June, 1944.
